

Bola Ajose

She/Her

- Degree: Pharmacy MPharm, 2017
- Current Role: Technical Operations Analyst at Permutive
- LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/bola-ajose/>

Bola Ajose is a self-taught programmer, and Pharmacy graduate from the University of Nottingham. She is passionate about STEM communication and amplifying Black Women's voices within this space. She currently works as Technical Operations Analyst at the audience platform Permutive, with previous experience as a Logistics Manager for Stemettes, and Programme Manager at Coders of Colour.

Aiysha Raof

She/Her

- Degree: Pharmacy MPharm, 2018
- Current Role: Clinical Pharmacist at the NHS / Primary Integrated Community Services
- LinkedIn: <http://linkedin.com/in/aiysha-raof>

Aiysha Raof is a Clinical Pharmacist in Primary Care with previous experience in both hospital and community sectors. She is an Education and Training Executive, Head of Public Relations and Director for a Medical/Pharmacy education company. Aiysha is Involved in various EDI work and has been appointed as the Notts ICS Racial Equity & Diversity co-lead associate. She is an active member of RPharms and advocate for pharmacy and medical education.

Kwame Otchere

He/Him

- Degree: Nutritional Sciences MSc, 2016
- Current Role: Regulatory Affairs Associate at Reckitt
- LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/kwameotchere>

As a regulatory affairs associate, Kwame Otchere's role involves ensuring NPD and EPD, product labelling and marketing communications are all in line with the UK & Ireland's regulations and legislations. He keeps up-to-date with all new and proposed regulatory changes, and assesses how they may impact the business - primarily working on a nutrition portfolio and some of our gastrointestinal medicines.

Rosette Ale

She/Her

- Degree: Mathematics and Management Studies BSc, 2017
- Current Role: Social Media Content Creator at Freeda Media
- LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/rosette-ale/>

Rosette Ale is a data-obsessed analyst and problem solver turned creative with a strong interest in social media and marketing, and over 2 years experience in both social media content creation and analysis. She has worked across fashion retail, e-commerce and now currently navigating the media world creating impactful content that reaches hundreds of thousands of people.

Vaneet Mehta

He/Him

- Degree: Natural Sciences, 2013
- Current Role: Software Engineer at American Express
- LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/in/vaneet-mehta>

Vaneet Mehta is an Indian bisexual man born and raised in Southall, West London. He has been working as a Software Engineer for the past 5 years for Gentrack, a company that delivers software to support the operations of energy companies, primarily on the back end using Java. He has just started a new role with American Express as a software engineer, working full stack in Kotlin and React. Outside of his job, Vaneet works within the LGBTQ+ community. He volunteers for multiple organisations, creates YouTube videos and delivers talks to companies. He is also an avid writer, having been featured on Stonewall and Metro UK as well as a bisexual anthology, entitled The Bi-ble Volume 2. He is currently writing a book on bisexual men.
